MEETING OF CRISTIANI.
The Union men of Louisiana say: "The Government has deceived us. Wilson, our Governor, has deceived us, and General Canby has helped him to planned; a pettifogging villain executed in this nation, and we rejected in the absence of the fearful power of the rebellion, yet ourselves the great men's money. Now the progress of reconciliation has returned the power to the hands of the old dominant slave-owning class, the men that has always kept

Government has not attempted an atom of devotion or loyalty from those who were lately rebels. Confessions have been secured without the improvement of the black and white race, but simply the placing of the sword in the hands of the old dominating class which produced the rebellion, and is now only able

—the same class to speak out who wish to live in the South—with the exception of those who live in large cities, where reaction makes men bold. There, and as a rule of degradation and suffering, are the present characteristics of the "new Unionists." In some places, where they are free to conduct, some
